DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

The species are as follows:

- i. Wherein the retaining force is a
 - (1) Aerodynamic force (Claim 28)
 - (2) Aerostatic Force (Claim 26)
 - (3) Fuel combustion product emission force (Claim 27)
- ii. Wherein the rotating is caused by applying
 - (4) A momentum heat expansion forces of fuel combustion product (Claim 22)
 - (5) Electromagnetic energy (Claim 21)
 - (6) Transferring thereto at least a portion of kinetic rotation energy of at least a part of the object to be gripped. (Claim 23)
 - (7) A fuel combustion product emission force (Claim 24)
- iii. Wherein the orientation force is generated by
 - (8) Aerodynamic forces (Claims 31)
 - (9) Aerostatic forces (Claim 32)

Art Unit: 3644

2. This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species.

Applicant is required to elect a single disclosed retaining forces species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable.

Claims 21-27 and 29-32 are generic to these species only.

- a. Aerodynamic force (Claim 28)
- b. Aerostatic Force (Claim 26)
- c. Fuel combustion product emission force (Claim 27)

3. Upon Electing one of species 2a-2c applicant is required to elect a single disclosed rotational forces species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable.

- d. A momentum heat expansion forces of fuel combustion product (Claim 22)
- e. Electromagnetic energy (Claim 21)
- f. Transferring thereto at least a portion of kinetic rotation energy of at least a part of the object to be gripped. (Claim 23)
- g. A fuel combustion product emission force (Claim 24)

4. Upon Electing one of species 3d-3h applicant is required to elect a single disclosed rotational forces orientation force species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable.

- h. Aerodynamic forces (Claims 31)
- i. Aerostatic forces (Claim 32)

Art Unit: 3644

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of an allowable generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single species to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

5. The species listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, the species lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: inventions as claimed do not overlap in scope, i.e.

Art Unit: 3644

are mutually exclusive, the inventions as claimed are not obvious variants and the invention as claimed have a materially different mode of operation.

6. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103 (a) of the other invention.

7. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Stephen A. Holzen whose telephone number is 571-272-6903.

The examiner can normally be reached on M-F 8:30-5:00.
